We are going to do wonders this year. It is all to be settled up; the rebels rubbed out, squelched, and exterminated; a negro population settled like a damp cloud all over the Scuthern territory, making it fertile, and numbers of faithful radical Governors, like Johnson and Hahn, are to have a patriarchal authority over them. We are going to send McClellan up Salt river, and Jeff Davis down the Styx. We are going to turn everybody out of Congress who doesn't vote and talk as we do, and send all the gold out of the country for treasonable resistance to Mr. Chase's financial policy. We are going to have such a people as the sun never sh one upon. We will allow no man to be disturbed on account of his color (unless he is white), and the rigiat of every one to bare arms and bare feet, bare legs and bare bodies, is to be established and reduced to practice as it never has been before-or behind. The virility of the nation is to be shown by sending able bodied men to the South until if the whole country doesn't blossom with the rose, it will yellow with a peculiar harvest not put down in agricultural reports. We intend to drive the French out of Mex co, the British out of Canada, and America out of credit. The way we intend to raise provisions is only to be equaled by the way in which we raise the prices of them. Indeed, such is to be our success in this, that the most despondent as well as the most hopeful will dmit that everything has about gone up. Every man is to be secured in his right to vote for Mr. Lincoln : 'And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave O'er the home of the free and the land of the Such is, in brief, what is cut out by the present party in power, all to be accomplished within the little evele of a twelve-month. The moon itself will not be switter in change nor sooner reduced to its "last quarter," according to this most marvelous scheme of the age, than we are to be in the rapid development towards that rullennial perfection when all the radicals are to have office; and of placks, it can be said with Byron: "Darkness had no need Of aid from them—she was the universe.

Just how all this is to be done is yet in the future; but let any one dare to doubt that it will be done at his peril! He will not have even the choice of the fanatical Hindoo-the Jugg-or-naut. He will be jugged at once.

Families can use them one month, and if at the end of room for the faithful in the high places. We can't all be Captains, and the Administration is rapidly using efficient means to leave no one who agrees with it, but its members.

One danger to be apprehended is, that Grant. in doing his part, may not accede to the annihilation, extermination, botheration scheme, and only fight to quell the rebellion. Another s, the people may not appreciate the glories of miscegenation and the high price of butter to their patriotic bread. The beauties of freeing the blacks and starving themselves may not strike them. A faulty education may lead them into the error that, when the rebel armies are put down, the Constitution, proprio vigore (the Latin is inserted gratis), protects and defends the Southern people in all their rights and privileges; but there is a remedy against that which we offer to the tamorous. Mr. Lincoln has only to "put his foot down," and we have his own word for sa ying when he does that he will not move it, and of course can take no steps to establish the

Neat and complimentary, all that, and cred-

The last news from Hayti is that of ome negroes roasting their children and eatng them. We can understand from this what the love of the negro which the Abolitionists talk about means. It is for the same reason that the King of the Cannibal Islands loves his fellow-men. The only figurative expression in Grant's report is in his account of the storming of Missionary Ridge by the soldiers without orders. He says: These troops moved forward and drove the enemy from the rifle-pits at the base of the ridge like bees from a hive. The radical papers land the difference between the flattering reception of Thompson, the English Abolitionist, in this country, and his being denounced when here thirty years ago, as if the present condition of affairs in America presented a very favorable contrast to the past. As Conway, of Kansas, a radical, made a speech a year ago in favor of recognizing the independence of the Southern Confederacy, he should have been turned out of Congress before Long."

The radicals propose to read a censure of Mr. Long every morning in Congress, to

Col J. G. Kelton, Assistant Adjutant General Washington, D. C: Colonel: In pursuance of General Orders No. 337, War Department, of date Washington, October 16, 1863, delivered to me by the Secetary of War at Louisville, Kv., on the 18 h of the same month, I assumed command of the Military Division of the Mississippi," comprising the Departments of the Ohio, the Cumberland, and the Tennessee, and telegraphed the order assuming command, to-gether with the order of the War Demartment referred to, to Major General A. E. Burnside at Knoxville, and to Major General W. S. Rose-My action in telegraphing these orders to Chattanoogs, in advance of my arrival there, was induced by information furnished me by the Secretary of War of the difficulties with which the Army of the Cumberland had to contend in supplying itself over a long moun-ainous and almost impassable road from Steverson, Alabama, to Chattanooga, Tennese, and his fears that Gen. Rosecrans would fall back to the north side of the Tennesses river. To award further against the possi-bility of the Secretary's fears, I also telegraphed to Major Ganeral Thomas on the 19th of October, frem Louisville, to hold Chattanooga at all bazards, that I would be there as soon as possible. To which he regied, on the same date, "I will hold the town till we storm?" Proceeding directly to Chattanooga, I arived there on the 23d of October, and found hat General Thomas bad, intuediately on being placed in command of the Department of the Cumberland, ordered the concentration of Major Gen. Hooker's command at Bridge-port, preparatory to securing the river and main waron rond between that place and Brewn's Ferry, immediately below Lookout Mountain. The next morning after my arrival at Chattanoga in company with Thomas and Brigadier General W. F. Smith, Chief Faringer, Theorem hief Engineer, I made a reconnoissance or rown's Ferry, and the hills on the south aid of the river and at the mouth of Lockout Val-ley. After the reconnoissance, the plan agreed upon was for Hooker to cross at Bridgeport to the south side of the river with all the force that could be spared from the railroad, and move on the roain wagon road by way of Whitesides to Wanhatchie, in Lookout Valley. Major General J. M. Palmer was to proceed by the only praticable route parts not be fibered. by the only praticable route north of the river from his position opposite Chattanooga to er from his position opposite Chattanoogs to a point on the north bank of the Tennessee, river and opposite Whitesides, then to cror's to the south side, to hold the road passed over by Hooker. In the mean time, and before the enemy could be apprised of our intentians, a force under the direction of Brigadier General W. F. Smith, Chief Engineer, was to be thrown across the river at or pear Brown's Ferry, to sci2a the range of hills at the mouth of Lookout Valley, covering the Brown's Ferry road, and orders were given according. Ferry road, and orders were given according.

was known that the enemy held the north end of Lookout Valley with a brigade of troops, and the road leading around the foot of the mountain from their main camps in Chattarnoga Valley to Lookout Valley. Holding these advantages, he would have had but little difficulty in concentrating a sufficient force to have defeated or driven Hooker hack. To remedy this the selvance of the back. To remedy this, the seizure of the range of hills at the mouth of Lookout Valley, and covering the Brown's Ferry Road, was deemed of the highest importance. This, by the use of ponton bridges at Charles. the use of pontoon bridges at Chattnooga and Brown's Ferry, would secure to us, by the north bank of the river, across Moccasin Point, We like this short way of settling matters.

It reduces the number of governors by cutting off all who whisper distrust, and so makes tain afforded the enemy for re-enforcing his. The force detailed for the expedition consisted of four thousand men, under command of General Smith, Chief Engineer; eighteen hundred of which, under Brigadier General W. B. Hszen, in sixty pontoon boats, containing thirty armed men each, foated quietly from Chatanapara, past the energy nickets to ing thirty armed men each, floated quietly from Chattanooga, past the energy's pickets, to the foot of Lookout Mountain, on the night of the 27th of October, landed on the south side of the river at Brown's Ferry, surprised the enemy's pickets stationed there, and scized, the hills covering the ferry, without the loss of a man killed, and but four or five wounded. The remainder of the force, torgether with the materials for a bridge, was inoved by the north bank of the river across Moccasin Point to Brown's Ferry, without attracting the attention of the ene my, and before day dawned the whole force was ferried to the south bank of the river, and the almost inaccessible hights rising from Lookalmost inaccessible hights rising from Look-out Valley at its outlet to the river and be-low the mouth of Lookout Creek, were se-cured. By 10 o'clock A. M. an exception, pon-toon bridge was laid across the river at low the month of Lookout Creek, were secured. By 10 o'clock A. M. an excellent pontoon bridge was laid across ', be river at Brown's Ferry, thus securing to us the end of the desired road nearest the 'nemy's forces, and a shorter line over whic' at to pass troops if a battle became inevitable. Positions were taken up by our troops from which they could not have been driven excern by vastly superior forces, and then only with great loss to the enemy. Our artillery was placed in such position as to completely command the roads leading from the enemy's main camps in Chattan ogg Valley to Lookout Valley.

On the 28th Hooker emerged into Lookout Valley at Wauhatchie, by the direct road from Bridge port, by way of Whitesides to Chattanooge, with the Eleventh Army Corps, under I fajor General Howard, and Geary's direction of the Twelfth Army Corps, and presented by guarded, and that the banks mauga Creek, westward to his main line in front of Chattanooga, were watched only by a small cavalry picket. This determined the plan of operations indicated in my dispatch of the 14th to Burnside.

Upon further consideration—the great object being to mass all the forces possible against one given point, namely, Mission Ridge, converging toward the north end of its was deemed best to change the original plan, so far as it contemplated Hooker's attacked on Lookout Mountain, which would give us Howard's corps of his command to aid in this purpose, and on the 18th the banks mauga Creek, westward to his main line in front of Chattanooga, were watched only by a small cavalry picket. This determined the plan of operations indicated in my dispatch of the 14th to Burnside.

He had the river, from the mouth of the river, from the mouth of Small line in front of Chattanooga, were watched only by a small cavalry picket. This determined the plan of operations indicated in my dispatch of the 14th to Burnside.

He had the river, from the mouth of the river, sion of the Twelfth Army Corps, and pre-ceeded to take up positions for the defense of the road from Whitesides, over which he of the road from Whitesides, over which he had marched, and also the road leading from arown's Ferry to Kelly's Ferry, throwing the left of Howard's corps forward to Brown's Ferry. The division that started, under company mand of Palmer, for Whitesides reached its destination, and took up the position intended in the original plan of this movement. These in the original plan of this movement. These movements, so successfully executed, secured to us two comparatively good lines by which to obtain supplies from the terminus of the railroad at Bridgeport, namely: The main way in road by way of Whitesides, Wazhatchie, and Brown's Ferry, distant but twenty-eight miles, and the Kelly's Ferry and Brown's Ferry road, which, by the use of the river from Bridgeport to Kelly's Ferry, reduced the distance for wagoning to but eight miles. Up to this period our forces at Chattanooga were practically invested, the enemy's lines extending from the Tennessee river above Chattanoogs to the river at and below the point of Lookout Mountain below Chattanooga, with the south bank of the river picketed to near Bridgeport, his main force being fortified in Chattanooga Valley, at the foot of and on Mission Ridge and Lookout Mountain, and a brigade in Lookout Valley. True, we held possession of the country north of the river but it was from sixty to severty with river, but it was from sixty to seventy miles over the most impracticable roads to carry supplies. The artillery-horses and mules had become so reduced by starvation that they could not have been relied on for moving any thing. An attempt at retreat must have been with men alone, and with only such supplies as they could carry. A retreat would have been almost certain annihilation, for the ene-my occupying positions within gunshot of and overlooking our very fortifications, would unquest onably have pursued our retreating forces. Already more than ten thousand animals had perished in supplying half rations to the troops by the long and tedious route from Stevenson and Bridgeport to Chattanooga, over Waldron's Ridge. They could not have been supplied another week.

Burnside, and feeling strongly the necessity of some move that would compel him to retain all his forces and recall those he had detached, directions were given for a movement against Mission Ridge, with a view to carrytached, directions were given for a movement against Mission Ridge, with a view to carrying it and threatening the enemy's communication with Longstreet, of which I informed Burnside by telegraph on the 7.h of November. After a thorough reconnoissance of the ground, however, it was deemed utterly impracticable to make the move until Sherman could get up, because of the inadequacy of our force and the condition of the animals then at Chattanooga; and I was forced to leave Burnside, for the present, to contend against Superior forces of the enemy until the arrival of Sherman with his men and means of trans-

of Sherman with his men and means of trans ortation. In the meantime, reconnoissances were made and plans matured for operations. Dispatches were sent to Sherman informing him of the movement of Longstreet, and the cessity of his immediate presence at Chattanocga. On the 14th of November I telegraphed to Burnside as follows:

Your dispatch and Dana's just received. Being there you can tell better to resist Longstreet's attack than I can direct. With your showing, you had better give up Kingston at the last moment and save the most productive part of your possessions. Every arrangement is now made to throw Sherman's force across the river, just at and below the mouth of Chickamauza Creek. As soon as it arrives, Thomas will attack on his left at the same time, and together it is expected to carry Mission Ridge, and from there push a force on to the railroad, between Cleveland and Dalton. Hooker will at the same time attack, and, if he can, carry Lookout Mountain. The enemy now seems to be looking for an attack on his left flank. This favors us. at the same time attack, and, it he can be lookant Mountain. The enemy now seems to be lookag for an attack on his left flank. This favors us.
Fo further confirm this, Sherman's advance division will march direct from Whitesides to Trenton.
The remainder of his force will pass over a new road just made from Whitesides to Kelly's Ferry, this heirs concealed from the enemy, and leave new problem would be left for solution. Thomas has ordered a division of cavalry to the vicinity of Sparta. I will as entain if they have started and inform you. It will be entirely out of the question to send you ten fromsand men; not because they can not be spared, but how could they be fed after they get one day east of here.

U.S. GRANT. Major General.

To Major General A. E. Errside.

On the 15th, having received from the General-in-chief a dispatch of date the 14th, in reference to Euraside's position, the danger of his abandonment of E 1st Tennessee unless immediate relief was afforded, and the terrible misfortune such a result would be to our arms, and also dispatches from Mr. C. A. Dana, Assistant Secretary of War, and Col Wilson, of my staff, sent at the instance of General Burnside, informing me more fally of the condition of affairs as detailed to them by him, I telegraphed him as follows:

Chattanooga, Nov. 15, 1882 CHATTANOOGA, NOV. 15, 1863.

I do not know how to impress upon you the necessity of holding on to East Tennessee, in strong enough terms. According to the dispatches of Mr. Dana and Col. Wilson, it would seem that you should fight pressed to do it, hold on to Knoxville and that portion of the valley you will necessarily possess, holding to that point. Should Longstreet move his whole force across the Little Tennessee, an effort should be made to cut his pontoons on that stream, even if it sacrificed half the cavalry of the Ohio Army. By holding on and placing Longstreet between the Little Tennessee and Knoxville, he should not be allowed to escape with an army capable of doing anything this winter. I can hardly conceive the necessity of retreating from East Tennessee. If I did at all, it would be after losing most of the army, and then the necessity would suggest the route. I will not attempt a lay out a line of retreat. Kingston, looking at the may, I thought of more importance than any one point in East Tennessee. But my attention being called more closely to it, I can see that it might be passed by, and Knoxville and the rich valley about it possessed, ignoring that place entirely. I should not think it advisable to concentrate a force near Little Tennessee to resist the coossing if it would be in danger of canture but I ate a force near Little Tennessee to besing if it would be in danger of cap ould harass and embarrass progress in

To Major-General A. E. Burnside. Previous reconnoissances, made first by Brigadier General W. F. Smith, Chief Engi-Drigatier General W. F. Smith, Chief Engineer, and afterward by Generals Thomas, Sherman and myself, in company with him, of the country opposite Chattanooga and north of the Tennessee river, extending as far easts the mouth of the South Chickamaugo, and the north end of Mission Ridge, so for as the same could be made from the north bank of the river, without exciting suspicions on the part of the enemy, showed good reads from Brown's Ferry up the river and back of the first range of hills opposite Chattanooga, and cut of view of the enemy's positions. Troops crossing the bridge at Brown's Ferry could be seen, and their numbers estimated by the enemy, but not seeing anything further of them as they passed up in the rear of these hills, he would necessarily be at a loss to know whether they were moving to Knoxville or held on the north side of the river for future operations at Chattanoga. It also showed that the north end of Mission Ridge was imperfectly guarded, and that the banks of the river, from the mouth of South Chicka

All preparations should be made for attacking the enemy's position on Mission Ridge by Saturday at daylight. Not being provided with a map giving names of roads, spurs of the nountain, and other places, such definite instructions cannot be given as might be desirable. However, the general plan, you understand, is for Sherman, with the force brought with him, strengthened by a division from your command, to effect a crossing of the Tennessee river just below the mouth of Chickannauga—his crossing to be protected by artillery from the hights on the north bank of the river (to be located by your chief of artillery), and to secure the hights from the northern extremity to about the railroad tunnel, before the enemy can concentrate against him. You will co-operate with Sherman. The troops in Chattanoga Valley should be well concentrated on your left flank, leaving only the necessary force to defend the fortifications on the right and center, and a movable column of one division in readiness to move wherever or dead ne necessary force to defend the fortifications on he right and center, and a movable column of one livision in readiness to move wherever ordered. This division should show itself as threateningly spossibly, on the most practicable line for making an attack up the valley. Your effort them will be to form a junction with Sherman, making your dvance well toward the northern end of Mission tidge, and moving as near simultaneously with time as possible. The junction once formed, and he ridge carried communication will be at once mas possible. The junction once formed, and eridge carried, communication will be at once tablished between the two armies, by roads on e south bank of the river. Further movements it then depend on those of the enemy. Look-ty Valley, I think, will be easily held by Geary's version and the transport of the communication. whithen depend on those of the enemy. Lookout Vailey, I think, will be easily held by Geary's division, and what troops you may still have then belonging to the old Army of the Cumberland. Howard's corps can then be held in readiness to act either with you at Chattanooga or with Sherman.
It should be marched on Friday night to a position on the north side of the river, not lower down than the first pontoon bridge, and then held in readiness for such orders as may become necessary. All these troops will be provided with two days' cooked rations, in haversacks, and one hundred rounds of ammunition on the person of each infantry soldier. Special care should be taken by all officers to see that ammunition is not wasted or nnnecessarily fired away. You will call on the Engineer Department for such preparations as you may deem necessary for carrying your infantry and artillery over the creek.

To Major-General Geo. H. Thomas.

A copy of these instructions was furnished.

Tam, General, very respectfully, your obedient servant, Braxton Bragg, Gen. Com.

Not being willing that he should get his army off in good order, Thomas was directed, early on the morning of the 23d, to ascertain the iruth or falsity of this report, by driving in his pickets and making him develope his lines. This he did with the troops stationed at Chattanooga, and Howerd's corps (which had been brought into Chattanooga because of the apprehended dauger to our pontoon bridges from the rise in the river, and the enemy from his first line, securing to us what is known as "Indian Hill," or "Orebard the enemy from bis first line, securing to us what is known as "Indian Hill," or "Orebard the enemy from bis first line, securing to us what is known as "Indian Hill," or "Orebard the enemy from bis first line, securing to us what is known as "Indian Hill," or "Orebard the enemy from bis first line, securing to us what is known as "Indian Hill," or "Orebard the same day. On the right of the starting of the starting the right of the starting the rig procured from Sherman, with which to move Thomas' artillery, was sent up from Chattanooga to aid in crossing artillery and troops, and by daylight of the morning of the 26th of November eight thousand men were on the south side of the Tennessee and fortified in rifle trenches. By 12 o'clock methodo the miller of Sherman's forces crossed over, and at half-past 3 p. m. the whole of the northern extremity of Misthe whole of the northern extremity of Mission Ridge, near the railroad tunnel, was in Sherman's possession. During the night he fortified the position thus secured, making it qual, if not superior in strength, to that held by the enemy.

By three o'clock of the same day Colonel Long, with his brigade of cavalry, of Thomas' army, crossed to the south side of the Tennessee, and to the north of South Chickamauga Creek, and made a raid on the enemy's lines of communication. He burned Treek lines of communication. He burned Tyner's Station, with many stores, cut the railroad at Cleveland, captured near a hundred wagons and over two hundred prisoners. His own loss was small Hocker carried out the part assigned to him

Hocker carried out the part assigned to him for this day equal to the most sanguine expectations. With Geary's division (Twelfth Corps) and two brigades of Stanley's division (Fourth Corps) of Thomas' army, and Osterhaus' division (Fifteenth Corps) of Sherman's army, he scaled the western slope of Lookout Mountain, drove the enemy from his rifle pits on the northern extremity and slope of the mountain, capturing many prisoners without serious loss. Thomas having done on the 231, with his troops in Chattanooga, what was intended for the 24th, bettered and strengthened his ad-vanced positions during the day, and pushed the Eleventh Corps forward along the south bank of the Tennessee river across Citico creek, one brigade of which, with Howard in person, reached Sherman just as he had completed the crossing of the river. When Hooker emerged in sight of the northern extremity of Lookout Mouatain, Carlin's brigade, of the 14th corps, was ordered to cross Chattanooga Creek and form a junction with him. This was effected late in the evening, and after considerable fighting.

In this march he was detained four hours building a bridge across Chattanoga creek. From Rossville he ascended Mission Ridge, and moved southward toward the center of the now shortened him.

the center of the now shortened line. Sherman's attack upon the enemy's most northern and most vital point was vigorously kept up all day. The assaulting column ad vanced to the very rifls-pits of the enemy, and held their position firmly and without wavering. The right of the assaulting column being exposed to the danger of being turned, two brigades were sent to its support. These advanced in the most gallant manner over an open field on the mountain side to near the works of the enemy, and laid there partially covered from fire for some time. The right of these two brigades rested near the head of a ravine or gorge in the mountain side, which the enemy took advantage of, and sent troops covered from view below them and to their light rear. Being unexpectedly fired into from this direction, they fell back across the open field below them and reformed in good order in the edge of the timber. The column which attacked them was speedily driven to their intrenchments by the assaulting column proper.

Eitly on the morning of the 25th the remainder of Howard's corps reported to Sherman, and constituted a part of his forces during that day's battle, the pursuit and subsequent advance for the relief of Knoxville.

Sherman's opposition not only threatened the right flank of the enemy, but from his occupying a line across the mountain, and to the railroad bridge across Chickamanga Creek, his rear and stores at Chickamanga Station. driven to their intrenchments by the assault

This movement of his being plainly seen from the position I occupied on Orchard Knoll, Baird's division of the Fourteenth corps was ordered to Sherman's support, but receiving a note from Sherman informing me that he had all the torge pressery. Baird was my he had all the torce necessary, Baird was put in position on Thomas' left.

The appearance of Hooker's column was at this time anxiously looked for and momenta-rily expected, moving north on the ridge, with his left in Chattano ga Valley and his right east of the ridge. His approach was intended as the signal for storming the ridge in the center with strong columns; but the time necessarily consumed in the construction of the bridge near Chattanooga Creek, detained him to a later hour than was expected. Being sa isfied from the latest information from him that he must be this time here he have the representation. that he must by this time be on his way from Rossville, though not yet in sight, and discovering that the enemy, in his despera ion to defeat or resist the progress of Sherman, was weakening his center on Mission Ridge, de-termined me to order the advance at once.

Thomas was directed to get Granger, with corps, and detachments enough from other muands, including the force available at Kingston, to make 20,000 men, in readiness to go to the relief of Kuoxville, upon the termination of the battle at Chattanoog, these troops to take with them four days rations, amboat, loaded with rations, to follow

On the evening of the 25th of November orders were given to both Thomas and Sher-nan to pursue the enemy early the next morn-ng, with all taelr available force, except that nder Granger, intended for the relief of Kuox-

On the morning of the 26th, Sherman advanced by way of Chickamauga Station, and Thomas' forces, urder Hooker and Palmer, moved on the Rossville road toward Grayville and Ringgold.

The advance of Thomas' forces reached Ringgold on the morning of the 27th when Hooker was directed to hold the position he then occupied until the night of the 30th, but to go no further south at the expense of a fight. Sherman was directed to march to the rall-road-crossing of the Hiawassee, to protect Granger's flunk until he was across that stream, and to prevent further re-enforcements eing sent by that route into East Tenness Returning from the front on the 28th, I found that Granger had not yet got off, nor would he have the number of men I had directed. Besides, he moved with reluctance and complaint. I therefore determined, not-withstanding the fact that two divisions of Sherman's forces had marched from Memphis, and had gone into battle immediately on their arrival at Chattanooga, to send him with his command; and orders in accordance therewith were sent him at Calhoun to assume emmand of the troops with Granger, in ad-ition to those with him, and proceed with al ossible dispatch to the relief of Burnsid General Elliott had been ordered by Thom-is on the 26th of November to proceed from

Sherman succeeded in throwing his cavalry into Knoxville on the night of the 31.
Sherman arrived in person at Knoxville on the 5th, and after a conference with Burnside in reference to "ors anizing a pursuing force large enough to overtake the enemy and beat him or drive him out of the State," Burnside was of the opinion that the compact of Granger was of the opinion that the corps of Granger, in conjunction with his own command, was sufficient for that purpose, and on the 7th ad-dressed to Sherman the following communi-

KNOXVILLE, Dec. 7, 1863.

To Major General Sherman:
I desire to express to you and to your command my most hearty thanks and gratitude for your promptness in coming to our relief during the siege of Knoxville, and I am satisfied that your approach served to raise the siege. The emergency having passed, I do not deem, for the present, any other portion of your command, but the corps of General Granger, necessary for operations in this section; and inasmuch as General Grant has weakened the forces immediately with him, in order to relieve us, thereby rendering portions of General Thomas' less secure, I deem it advisable that all the troops now here, except those commanded by General Granger, should return at once to within supporting distance of the forces operating 'gainst. General Granger, should return at once to within supporting distance of the forces operating gainst Bragg's army. In behalf of my command, I again desire to thank you and your command for the kindness you have done us.

A. E. BURNSIDE, Major General.

Leaving Granger's command at Knoxville, Sherman, with the remainder of his forces, returned by slow marches to Chattanooga.

I have not spoken more particularly of the result of the pursuit of the enemy because the more catalled reports accommanying this do the subject justice. For the san have not particularized the parts taken by corps and division commanders.

The members of my staff discharged faithfully their respective duties, for which they have my warmest thanks.

Our losses in these battles were 757 killed. Our losses in these battles were for kines, 4,529 wounded, and 330 missing; total, 5,616. The less of the enemy in killed and wounded was probably less than ours, owing to the fact that he was protected by his intrenchments, while our men were without cover. ANOTHER AMERICAN EMPEROR.-We shall probably have a large crop of Emperors on the American continent, if Maximilian gets him-self firmly enthroned in Mexico It seems self fifthly enthroned in Mexico is seems that in South America, in the Republic of Paraguay, one is about to be added to the stock. Our correspondent at Baenos Ayres writes that President Lopez will soon preclaim the Empire. The crown and purple intended for his coronation as Emperor of Paraguay have arrived in Buenos Ayres, and the coronary, we are informed is speedand the ceremony, we are informed, is speed-ily to come off. The scandalous story is told that the robe and crown are the same articles as were used in the coronation of the negro Emperor of Hayti, Faustin I., now an ex-tic in Jamaica, and whose wife is said to take in washing. It will be remembered that Faustin was crowned a dozen years ago with great pomp, imitating on the occasion the ceremo-nial at the coronation of Napoleon I.; and as the Emperor Lopez is to wear his old garb, we suppose he will also follow his style.

This imperial movement in Paraguay is not very astonishing. That country had a long experience of despotism—one of the most terrible despotisms of modern or ancient times—under the famous Doctor Francia; and since of Mr. Long very morning in Congress, to the each of the session, as a sort of "Anne" to the session of the session o his death, a quarter of a century ago, there have been various efforts to revive his system. Even the present government of President Lopez is more like a monarchy than a republic.

DIAPPHEA AND DYSENTERY -- We have examined a great number of letters from some of the most prominent citizens of Ciscinnati and Covington, etc., speaking in the highest terms of Dr. Strickland's Auti-Cholera Mix-ture for the cure of diarrhæn and dysentery. The letters are too long to publish. Mr Woods, of Covington, says he was pronounced incurable by the best doctors in Cincinnati, and one bottle of Dr. Strickland's Anti-Cholera Mixture effected a permanent cure after suffering for months with the worst form of diarrhœs and dysentery. mrl1 d.n&w

PITTSBURG, April 14. River 13 feet by pier mark. Weather clear.

PROSPECT OF ANOTHER COAL FAMINE .-There are very good reasons for the belief that a monopoly exists among the coal dealers at Pittsburg for the purpose of keeping coal up to a price that will render it impossible for a years' supply to be laid in this spring. Then, if the river should not continue at a better stage this year than usual, another coal famine will be pretty certain to come upon us next winter, when coal may be again about a dollar a bushel. If it should be deemed improper for the City Council to take measures to prevent such another calamity, we hardly know what city councils are made for. It is said that coal cannot be purchased by outsiders, to be delivered here, the monopolists controlling it entirely. To foil these nefarious attempts, it is more than possible that it may become necessary for the city to go into the coal business on its own account. purchase a mine, steam tug, &c. The next best thing, or perhaps a better thing, would be to cause a coal company to be organized for the purpose. If the difficulties of securing coal shall be found to be too great, care should be taken in season to secure a supply of wood. It is possible that the city authorities may have sufficient influence with the railroads which their munificence has helped to build and on which they have heavy mortgages, to secure the requisite co-operation from those noble and disinterested bodies in the undertaking.

> THE STYLE OF LIVING IN THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.—General Grant dees not seem to fancy the luxurious style of living prevalent in the Army of the Potomac. He says he can maintain his physical integrity on pork and beans, as soldiers do out West, and believes it can be done by them here. Both shores of the Ohio were lined with spectators to witness the event. Her swell, as she kissed the waters, heaved on the shore heavily, ducking a number of people. There were several narrow escapes, but no one drowned. The Catawba draws nine feet without her armanent, and is a noble iron steamer.

[From the Richmond Whie. The Charleston Courier makes a timely suggestion in commending the attention of our Government to the aturalization and cultivation of Cailsaya for the pres ervation of the health of our soldiers. This article ha peculiar effect upon the liver, and guards the system against disease by exposure and irregular diet. It 1 said that the great success of the Plantation Bitters of Dr. Drake, which, previous to our unhappy difficulties. was found in most Southern homes, was owing to the extract of Callsaya Bark, which it contained as one of its principal ingredients. "In confirmation of this, we have heard one of our most distinguished physicians." remark, that whenever he felt unwell from ordinary dietetic or atmospheric causes, he invariably relieved himself by Plantation Bitters. Now that these Bitters cannot be obtained, a substitute should be prepared. We understand that our Government has opened negotlations with Dr. Drake, through a secret agent, but with what truth we do not know."

There is probably several other things that "Our Government" will yet want. We know that we have the best and most popular medicine in the world. We are not afraid to show what it is composed of.

It is my firm conviction that what Dr. hannes A. Jones can't cure can't be cured. I am firmly convinced of his unprefalled skill that I take pleasure in answering any questions that may asked me. [From the Pittsburg Weekly Chronicle, March 14, 1863.] Dr., Jönks at the Moonsgamela House, —We have frequently called attention to the signal success attending by, Jones' treatment of eye and ear diseases. His office is crowded every day, and we have yet to hear of a single case of his ir which his patient has not received the greatest benefit from his treatment. We have spoken already of the success with which he operates for diseases of the eye. The following certificate shows what he can do in diseases of the ear. Weave it in full, because Captain Evans is widely known here, and any statement coming from him with be received with interest. Here is what he says:

Physique been troubled, with deafness for some time.

[Editorial from the Indianapolis Gazette, June 27th, 1863, Edited by Dr. Jordan.] DR. JONES AT THE BATES HOUSE, —Public attention we see is being directed very considerably towards this distinguished gentleman, and people are beginning to feel that he is neither a humbug nor even one of the ordinary traveling "Doctors," but really a scientific man, as blussing to the afflicted, and all, indeed, that he professes to be. We have spoken heretofore very highly and unqualifiedly of Dr. Jones, but we knew the man and his eminen success in other places, and knew what we were talking about. We commend the Doctor to the public, not for his benefit, but for the benefit of the afflicted—all who have defective organs of sight or hearing. As an operating surgeon we verily believe he has no qual in America. He has speat a large fortune has no qual in America. He has speat a large fortune in acquiring the knowledge he possesses, in the best schools of Europe, as well as in this country, and has schools of Europe, as well as in this country, and has since had several years practical experience, attended with success perhaps never before equalled.

A BAD CASE OF DISCHARGE OF THE EAR CURED. A BAD CASE OF DISCHARGE OF THE EAR CURED.

My little daughter was afflicted with an offensive and dangerous discharge from her ears, caused by searlet fever. Our family physician having done all he could, gave her up as incurable. Dr. Jones of New York, was praticing in Columbus with astonishing success, and her under his skillful treatment. He told me he could cure her in four months and gave me medicine for that length of time. Before the medicine he had used I find my dachter entirely cured, and I am desirous of missing it known, that the public may have the benefit of his skill. If my tostimony will influence them.

om a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 2009. DR. Avers. Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of alcerous sores upon her bands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her buir. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. As a Family Medicine.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.
Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent unlities surpass any cathartic we posses. They are aild, but very certain and effectual in their action on he bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the aily treatment of disease. Headache, Sick Headache and Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore. DEAR BRO. AVER: I cannot answer you what com-pleints I have cured with your Fills better than to say all that we ever treat with a purgative medicine. I blace great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my latily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Fills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

Presserg, PA., May 1, 1855. Pretsnerg, PA., May 1, 1855. Pressured, FA., May 1. 1999.

Dr. J. C. Aven—Sir. I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headlachs any body can have by a dose or two of your Fils. It seems to arise from a four stomach, which they elebane at once.

Yours with great respect. ED. W. PREMER.

Bilious Disorders-Liver Complaints. From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pilis admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperiest, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people. DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Washington, D. C., 7th February, 1856.

in: I have used your Pills in my general and hospi-practice ever since you made them, and cannot heat-te to say they are the best cathart's we employ. Their rulating action on the liver is quick and decided, con-quently they are an admirable remedy for derange-ents of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a se of billous disease so obstinate that it did not readi-vised to them. Frategoally yours. ase of bilions discuss so obsumate that your y yield to them.
